PowerPoint Presentation by Kevin Chapman on the 2022-2025 SDMC Strategic Plan

Preliminary projections the school district will be in a district for the first time ever. The mileage dollars were a big deal. It will enhance spending for stem, visual and performing arts, and enhance supplemental pay. District wide focuses on the third grade reading graduation rates, Soar-N-4 program. District has noticed an uptick tick in behavioral issues which it will address through life skills formerly known as social emotional learning. Employee retention continues to be a focus. The district is doing better than many districts across the state in filling teaching positions.

Safety & Security| all green status we're gaining a national reputation in this area.

Technology| All green status.

Energy Management| Rated as yellow. The district will look at some “green” options to lower on word carbon footprint

Finance| See the district website for the new financial dashboard.

2022 – 2023 Initiatives| early bird dyslexia screener. A program that Sarasota county turned down will allow us to identify students who may potentially struggle in reading and math.

Survey on culture and climate for the community is ongoing. our demographics are shifting as a district we are approximately 30% hispanic 12% african american with a growing asian population.
